Camp with a Purpose

Does your child with ADD/ADHD want to participate in a fun, innovative, supportive, and judgement-free summer camp? Would you like support in managing your child's ADD/ADHD symptoms? Austin in Action Summer Camp is here for you and your child. Clinical social workers will guide your child through exciting activities that support impulse control, concentration, positive social skills, time management and self-regulation. Additionally, campers will participate in sports, improv, swimming, nature activities, music creation, and more. Staff to camper ratio is 1:5. Parents/caregivers will have the opportunity to attend two hours of parent camp where you will learn additional strategies for supporting your child.
